ACADEMIC INSTITUTIONS WORKING TOGETHER

History and Purpose of ACEA

The Academic Council for Education Accountability (ACEA) was founded in June 1998, out of a desire for Christian institutions related to various Apostolic Networks to meet together on a peer level, and to build relationships. At the first meeting, 100 educators from 65 base institutions met together. The essential challenges discussed were:

How Do We Facilitate... ?

- Positive personal relationships
- Mutual support
- Camaraderie
- Peer-level interaction
- Independence
- Institutional integrity
- Maintaining autonomy and diversity

MEMBERSHIP

ACEA is not a new form of Accreditation, but rather a creative Alternative to academic accreditation. It is a way that apostolic training Institutions can receive the desired ongoing peer-level evaluation and mutual accountability while maintaining the integrity of their individual callings from God.

ACEA was founded by C. Peter Wagner who convened the Apostolic Leaders From 12 states as well as Canada and Asia. Since 1998, we meet regularly to ensure that ACEA is addressing the most current issues and meeting the needs of the members. Over 70 institutions are active members.

Membership

Any institution engaged in training individuals for Christian ministry.

Annual fee is $440 U.S. Funds

One or more individuals representing the school must attend the annual meeting in November.

The annual meeting registration is $95 per person or $145 per married couple, and is combined with the International Coalition of Apostolic Leaders Summit each November.

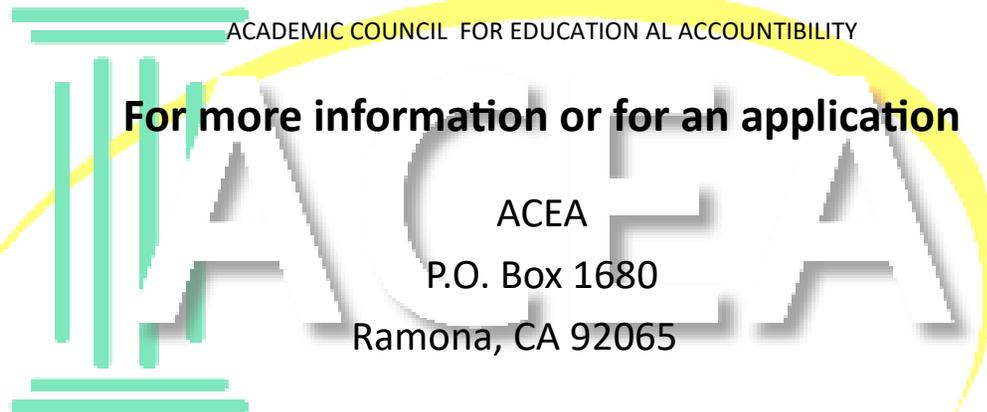

Since its founding, I have found ACEA to be a source for relationships with those of like heart and mind. Over the years, I have discovered selected individuals with whom relationships have so developed that I have had them come into my institution and conduct a voluntary review. This provided great affirmation and insight for future growth of my school. The information shared by these educators at ACEA has given perspective and commended actions that have saved my school from many crises. ACEA is golden and certainly worth the investment.
